

<http://stacievaughansblog.blogspot.com/2010/03/ohhh-baby-extravaganza-so-smart-review.html>

March 4, 2010

Ohhh Baby Extravaganza: So Smart! Review & Giveaway

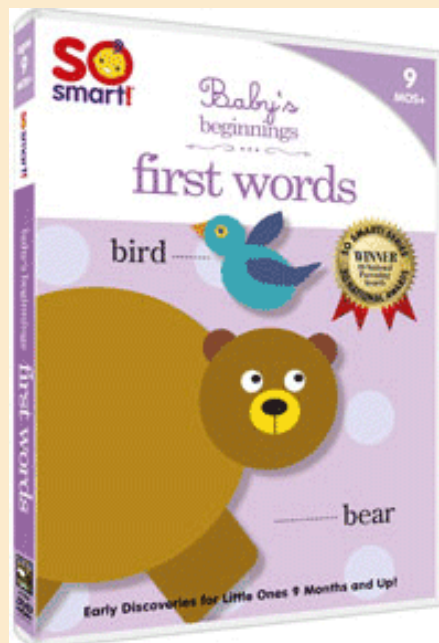

So Smart! Productions is a leading creator and producer of top-rated educational entertainment products for young children. Its trusted brands include So Smart! Baby's Beginnings and Baby's First Word-Stories for babies and toddlers, and King Otis and The Kingdom of Goode for preschoolers.

Founded in 1997 by early childhood development researcher and artist, Alexandra Tornek, and husband and media producer, Scott Tornek, their DVDs and music CDs—with simple stories, adorable characters, catchy songs and a pace that's just right—are enjoyed by families around the world.

We have been sitting down with Sadie and trying to teach her her letters, numbers and shapes, but sometimes she just doesn't want to listen and not interested in learning so we will switch it up with a book or music or her magnets on the fridge. Now we have one more thing to add to our list for engaging her in educational things. The DVD's were just the right pace for her. She loved all the characters, and the music was nice and relaxing and not overwhelming like others we have.

We reviewed the Baby's first-word stories, we go and Baby's beginnings, letters. The letter one was great as it has pictures to go with each letter and she could recognize that D is for Dog or A is for Apple. And Momma was very happy when S came up and she said S is for Sadie too...The So Smart! series has won 30 National Parenting Awards. Check out www.sosmart.com and get your babies, toddlers and preschoolers learning today.